WOLFE COUNTY.

Lee City.

Clay Rose sold Abner Moore a house and lot in town a few days ago.

D. N. Wells and R. F. Anderson took the contract to build our school house for $935.

Rev. W. L. Lucy and others have been holding a protracted meeting at the Watters school house.

Mrs. Rose Patrick and Miss Laura Patrick, of Johnson fork, visited James Arnett Saturday and Sunday.

Quire J. H. Sebastian, S. Miles Nickell, Woodson Little and H. C. Shockley, of Daysboro, were in town Saturday.

George Washington Dunn has been absent from town about two weeks, and the sheriff has been hunting for him.

The sheriff sold a yoke of oxen belonging to A. J. Walters Saturday, to satisfy an execution, to Clay Rose for $20.05.

Logan Fallen, of Gilmore, and Dr. W. O. Baume, of Frenchburg, were the guests of Oscar Fallen and wife two days last week.

A. J. Walters is moving to Hunting creek, Breathitt county, and will move the steam mill he bought from A. J. Dykes there in a few days.

Mrs. G. B. Rose is very sick. Dr. Tipper is attending her, but we hope she will soon be well, for she sent your scribble a nice lot of honey for Christmas.

We can get plenty of green apples to eat, but B. F. Rose, near town held up about 175 bushels last fall. Mr. Rose is one of the best farmers in this county.

D. N. Wells and R. F. Anderson have the mill free yet, for we learn they have bought another steam mill on Kane creek, Breathitt county. We predict a success for them, as they are both energetic men.

Old Aunt Frankie Kish, of Gilmore creek, walked to see her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Fallen, of our town, last Thursday and returned home Sunday. She is 75 years old, and can walk as glib as a ten-year-old girl.

Miss America Wilson was the lucky one to guess the number (which was 23) that drew the sugar bowl at Oscar Fallen's store. For each package of prize coffee bought the purchaser was entitled to a guess, and she bought only one package. What will be the next prize she will draw? It may be that Magoffin boy.

Miss Carrie Harmon, of Butler, Mo., and who is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Caroline Swango, of this place, was recently married to Leonard Thompson, also of Butler. The Misuri papers speak in high terms of both bride and groom. James Harmon, the bride's father, has moved his residence to Warrenton, Mo. We clip the following from the Butler Times: "The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Thompson, one of Bates county's wealthy and most influential families. He is an exemplary young man, and in winning the heart and hand of Miss Harmon, the handsome and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harmon, formerly of Summit Township, has displayed good taste, and wedded a young lady in every way worthy his affection. This young couple start in life under the most favorable auspices for a bright, happy and prosperous career, and with the best wishes of a host of friends." THE HERALD extends congratulations.

Some time ago Mr. Simon Goldbaum, of Luisa Rey, Cal., was troubled with a lame back and rheumatism. He used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and a prompt cure was effected. He says he has since advised many of his friends to try it and all who have done so have spoken highly of it. It is for sale by John M. Rose.

DEMOCRATS INDIGNANT.

Judge Beckner Says They Will Call Senator Holloway Down.

Judge W. M. Beckner, of Winchester, ex-congressman from the Tenth district, and candidate for the Democratic nomination in that district again, was in the city yesterday on private business. To a representative of The Herald he said that he had no opposition so far for the nomination, and from what he could tell, he would not have any.

The judge is very indignant at the action of State Senator Holloway in refusing to go into the Democratic senatorial caucus, and says the Democrats of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery counties, which compose the district represented by Mr. Holloway, will most certainly hold Indignation meetings and request him to vote for Blackburn. Such a meeting, the judge said, would be held on the division of their work. Will, the youngest, aged 16, attacked Tom with a pitch fork. Tom took the implement away from him and stabbed him six times with a knife. The injured boy is dying, and officers are on the track of the knife-wielder, who fled immediately after the cutting. It is thought he has gone to Texas, where he came from several weeks ago.

A. West Liberty dispatch in the Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday says: "Tom, Frank and Will Hopkins, brothers, while at work in a barn, quarreled over the division of their work. Will, the youngest, aged 16, attacked Tom with a pitch fork. Tom took the implement away from him and stabbed him six times with a knife. The injured boy is dying, and officers are on the track of the knife-wielder, who fled immediately after the cutting. It is thought he has gone to Texas, where he came from several weeks ago."

An Old Soldier's Recommendation.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhea. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Cure was invented. I have used it and it will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Bending, Halsey, Oregon. For sale by John M. Rose.

Charged Commissaries.

Living at the mouth of Sturgeon creek in Lee county, now in its 88th year, is James Brandenburg, familiarly known as "Uncle Jimmie." Although he has always lived in the same house he has been a native of three different counties by a change of lines—Estill first, where he had to travel twenty-two miles to vote, and the elections were continued for three days; then Owsley, composed of Clay and Breathitt, and lastly Lee, in which he now lives. He has been a voter for sixty-seven years and voted for Gen. Jackson for president in 1828.

He is in terrible misery with rheumatism in his hips and lower limbs. I read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla that I thought it would do me good. I took it and soon got up and over me. When I eat it I don't eat up nor over me. Turn over in bed without help. One bottle of so much that I am soon out of bed and could walk. I had also felt weak and tired at the time; could not sleep, and obtained no little rest. I might kiss it all over in the morning. I had no appetite to eat anything, but Hood's Sarsaparilla Mo.

FAIRIE CHICKEN SHOOTING.

It Does Not Take High Rank Among Field Sports.

On September 1, when the season commonly opens, according to existing laws, most of the chickens are but two-thirds grown or less. They are just wing-shaking their first feathers for the plumage of maturity. Their wings are relatively weak, and, unless they have previously been frightened, they are usually so indisposed to leave their nests that they are not necessary to shoot them from the ground or stable. Once in the air an indifferent marksman may cut them down with tolerable certainty. Two guns may commonly secure every bird of a covey.

Under such circumstances chicken-shooting hardly takes high rank in the list of field sports. But a month or two later, the hunting season is over, and the full-grown prairie hen is definitely as like a bird of another feather. It has become more wary, though still lying reasonably well; its flight is swift and strong; it has learned the value of scrub-oak patches and cornfields as cover to be sought in an emergency; in short, it has now become in its full November prime a game bird worthy the protection of the law.

No one who has not the ardor of the true sportsman thinks of going in pursuit of this nature prairie hen. But unfortunately, as I have already intimated, a veritable host of hunters stand ready to assail the September weaklings. The inevitable result is that the ranks of this plentiful fowl are being thinned at a rate that arouses the indignation of every right-thinking person who reads the facts. Fifteen years ago in a favorable region of the Mississippi valley and westward, there was no reasonable limit to the hunting of a good dog might make any day in the fall when he chose to go on the prairies. The present season, on revisiting this region, I found skilled sportsmen hunting all day long over favorable fields and returning with a game bag, and often with two or three times with none at all. Thus is the hardest and most prolific of our game birds threatened with extinction on the broad prairies of the west, as it has already been completely exterminated throughout the east. And this despite the fact that the prairie hen thrives best in a cultivated country, if properly protected, tending constantly to extend its range in the wake of civilization.

The wanton destruction of our game is no new theme, but it is one on which a writer may well afford to brave the charge of triteness. Regarding most species, however, regrets are vain, even if natural. Large quadrupeds cannot ordinarily exist in the environment of civilization.

But the case of the prairie hen is different. Wherever there are meadows and oak fields, red maples, and cottonwoods, and will thrive if given a fair living chance. Wheat is its favorite cereal, it is true, but if need be it soon learns to do without it, as, indeed, its ancestors did for untold centuries. Denied staple of any kind, it proves its adaptability by taking to the corn and to the bean fields, and even to thickets of underbrush. And in any and all situations it lives well on grasshoppers and other insects during the early part of the season, thus rendering the farmer many times over for any gleanings it may make in the grain fields later on.—Harper's Weekly.

The Convict.

An elderly gentleman of benign appearance has of late been distributing religious tracts in the street cars, and we know at least one case of quickened conscience which was brought to public notice.

A young man entered the car, paid his nickel, and was handed a tract, headed, "Are You a Sinner?" He turned pale at once, read a few lines and suddenly called out:

"Yes, I am! I put a bad nickel in the fare-box; but now I'll begin life and be honest. Here, driver, change this half-dollar, and I'll pay my fare over again."

The change was given him and he paid, but after riding a block he left the car to see a man on the walk. The passenger, "What is it a wonderful the state, and are making?" called out: cation and religion, half dollar comfortable school house, bays, and are spreading a b. leys, and are spreading a b. ence over all. The county-seat of Jackson, Hazard, Hyden, and Hyden, and contain institutions of education which can be obtained as good instruction as the state affords.

The most potent factor in promoting education in the mountains is, and has been, the Presbyterian church. Their beautiful temples of worship are to be found throughout the mountains. The one nearing completion at Hazard is worthy of special note as being the finest church edifice in the mountains. Its exquisite architecture, gothic windows with stained glass, etc., is indeed a thing of beauty and to the people of Hazard will be "a joy forever." The Methodist church is also doing a great

AFRAID OF THE VERDICT.

Speaker Reed Is Not So Cearish as He Was.

For a man so sure as Speaker Reed is of his right to be chosen as president and as (meaning the republican party) for what we did in the 51st congress," he is remarkably ready to wait for the verdict. He seems, indeed, to be extremely anxious to avoid any verdict whatever, either of praise or blame. His policy as expressed in his acceptance of the nomination for the speakership is masterly inactivity. He wants to wait and see how the cat is going to jump. This is prudent on his part, but is not at all consistent with his statement that history is going to praise him.

Mr. Reed's associates of the 51st congress for the passage of the bill for which we take to be what he means. Thus far, at least, history has done nothing of the kind. It has distinctly blamed Reed and his associates for what they did, and the people blamed them quite as severely as history did by sitting down on them and turning them out of congress house, foot and dragon.

Unjustified disapproval was the verdict of history at that time, and it would naturally be supposed that if there is to be a reversal, as Mr. Reed affects to believe, he would be extremely anxious to get it as soon as possible.

The speaker's attitude on the point is as remarkable as his policy is at most unique. The chief organ of his party, the New York Tribune, quite agrees with him as to what the verdict of history is to be. In point of fact it believes that history has already rendered its verdict, and reversed the one hastily rendered in 1850 in condemnation of McKinleyism. It regards the vote of 1854 as a demand for the reinstatement of McKinleyism, and has no sympathy with the masterly inactivity of Mr. Reed advocated. "The people," it says, "will not accept the tariff of 1850 has been called home to remedy the evils that have resulted from its repeal and the enactment of the Wilson tariff, in its stead. The voters have declared with unmistakable distinctness in favor of a return to

PROGRAMME OF REPUBLICANS.

A Scheme to Get Credit for the Increasing Prosperity.

Ex-Gov. Kellogg knows it is necessary to do something to keep his programme for the approaching session of congress. In his interview published in the World he not only told what that programme is, but revealed the politics behind it with an indiscretion which will perhaps check the fluency of Mr. Reed's confidential communications to him hereafter.

Briefly, Mr. Kellogg sees that we have entered upon an era of extraordinary prosperity. He foresees that prices will advance, business will prosper and all laboring men will find abundant employment at good wages.

He is not at all disposed to denounce legislation and administration, and get something for this happy condition of things. He expects Speaker Reed to prevent that and turn the prosperity to republican account and he tells us what is to be done. Congress is to pass measures as to who is the author of the prosperity.

This is not a very high-minded programme. Its inspiration is fitness rather than statesmanship. But it has all the characteristics of Mr. Reed's methods. It is shrewd, not too scrupulous, and there is a suggestion of winks and sarcasm such as befit it.

The speaker's attitude on the point is as remarkable as his policy is at most unique. ## PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

—Chief Author of the Order of Locust.

Engineers, has just returned from his birthday, Paisley, in Scotland. He said that after an absence of fifty-two years from that town he finds it practically unchanged.

—Count Lippe, a canon of the Vienna cathedral, has gone to Rome bearing a beautiful brocade robe presented to the Virgin of Loreto by the Archduchess Maria Theresa, a sum of 100,000 golden ducats, the gift of the Austrian nobility to the pope.

—In spite of Prof. Albert's philippine against teaching women medicine, Virginia's first woman doctor, Dr. Maria von Roth, has been admitted to practice, has had the oath administered to her, and has been appointed physician to the imperial school for officers.

—Old Orchard, Me., has a woman painter of a new kind. She paints houses, barns and fences and does it for living and makes very good living at it. She gets the same wages as men in the trade, which is reasonable evidence that she does the work at least twice as well.

—The Hon. Henry E. Cooper, who was recently qualified as minister of foreign affairs in Honolulu, although a native of Indiana, was reared and educated in Boston. He was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1870, and soon afterward removed to San Diego. In 1890 he settled in Honolulu.

—Ward Leonard, of Vicksburg, Ind., sixty years old, has drawn in the Washab river a few days ago, and the old man said that all his family, his mother and father, two brothers and a sister, met death in the same way, being drowned in the Ohio river at different times during the last thirty years.

—Moses W. Donnelly, the state printer of West Virginia, has applied to the state printing commission to be relieved from his contract. All the funds available for printing have been exhausted, and there can be no propriety in attempting to postpone till the next session of the legislature, which comes in 1897.

—Capt. von Hunnenkow, who played such a conspicuous part in the Chinese-Japanese war, is now in Berlin, Germany, on a special mission giving him full powers to make arrangements for the reorganization of the Chinese army on the Russian, French or German model. It is certain that the Chinese army needs very radical reformation.

—St. Albans, Me., merchant is giving the people of that town a vivid illustration of the folly of patronizing peddlers. An itinerant vendor struck that place the other day and did it up brown with glass pens at twenty-five cents each. The merchant let everybody who wanted one buy it of the traveler. Then he ordered some of the identical articles of a New York house and displays them marked at two cents each.

—A LITTLE NONSENSE.

—Hoax—"What makes your son yell and shout about the house that way?"

—Joax—"He's getting in training to enter college next year."—Philadelphia Record.

—De Yude, throw away that nasty, foul-smelling little thing and have a good cigar." "No, thanks, deah boy. I (puff, puff) don't smoke."—Chicago Tribune.

—"I can't see why it is," said Bobby, "that when little boys are cross, folks say they are naughty; and when papas and mammas are cross, folks say they are nervous."—Harper's Bazaar.

—If all the days were holidays,

The hardest work that you could do

Would seem the biggest fun.

—Washington Star.

—First Conductor—"I heard you were sick. How did you get refracted?" "Some—diseases—acquaintances." "What were you fired for?" "Presto—acquaintances."—Philadelphia Record.

—Gory—"Why is Jazikin so distant toward you? Do you owe him money?" Goshley—"No; on the contrary he owes me money. He couldn't be half so distant if I owed him."—Roxbury Gazette.

—See here, waiter! Those eggs are not cooked properly." "I know it, sir; but you said they were for your wife. You know if the lady was your wife she couldn't be very particular."—Yonkers Statesman.

—Vandyke Brown—"Come over to my studio, Snazzy, and let me show you my last picture!" Snazzy—"Your last? With the greatest pleasure, old fellow! I'm so glad you have quit painting."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Tribune.

—"I don't believe that you love me."

"But, Clara, I have given you proof enough of my love. Didn't I offer to make myself the master of this four-story window into the sky?" "Why didn't you do it?" "Why didn't I do it?" "I'll tell you why I didn't do it. The weather was bad outside. That's why. It looked as if it was going to rain."—Texas Siftings.

—Hoaks—"Can you refer me to a work where I can learn how the ancients constructed those catapults that would throw stones half a mile?"

—Frogs—"Don't believe I can. Why do you want such information?" Hoaks—"Well, you see, I have advertised that this house is within a stone's throw of the railway station, and now I have got to rig up some plan for throwing that stone."—Tit-Bits.

BEST REDUCTION IN TIME to California.

Once more the North-Western railroad reduced the time of its trans-continentals, and via the "short route" to San Francisco, via the mountains, is made in the marvelously short time of three days. Paul's Drawing Room Sleepers leave San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, and all men on route are served in Dining and all-day Tourist Sleepers, which can also make the trip in three days. The cost of a round trip from Chicago to the Pacific Coast, through trains leave Chicago for California at 6:30 a.m. and 8:30 p.m. daily. A regular train of connecting lines from the East and South.

PRAGUE CHICKEN SHOOTING.

It Does Not Take High Bank Among Field Sportsmen.

On September 1, when the season commonly opens, according to existing laws, most of the chickens are but two-thirds grown or less. They are just exchanging their first feathers for the plumage of maturity. Their wings are relatively weak, and, unless they have previously been frightened, they are not likely to be disposed to leave their nests, so far as to attempt literally kick them from the grass or scrub. Once in the air an indifferent marksman may cut them down with tolerable certainty. Two guns may commonly secure every bird of a covey.

Under such circumstances chicken-shooting hardly takes high rank in the list of sports. But a month or two later the moulting season over, and the young full-grown, the prairie hen is figuratively as well as literally a bird of another feather. It has become more wary, though still flying reasonably well; its flight is swift and strong; it has learned the value of scrub-oak patches and cornfields as cover to be sought in an emergency; in short, it has become a game bird worthy the prowess of any sportsman.

No one who has not the ardor of the true sportsman thinks of going in pursuit of this mature prairie hen. But unfortunately, as I have already intimated, veritable hosts of hunters stand ready to assail the September weaklings. The inevitable result is that the numbers of these birds fall below thinnest at a rate that arouses the indignation of every right-minded person familiar with the facts. Fifteen years ago in a favorable region of the Mississippi valley and westward, there was no reasonable limit to the bag an average sportsman with a good dog might make any day in the fall when he chose to go out on the prairie. That is to say, on reaching that region a few skilled sportsmen hunting all day long over favorable fields and returning with five or six chickens at most, sometimes with none at all. Thus is the hardest and most prolific of our game birds threatened with extinction on the broad prairie of the west, as it has already been completely exterminated throughout the east. And this despite the fact that the prairie hen thrives best in a cultivated country, is properly protected, tending constantly to extend its range in the wake of civilization.

The wanton destruction of game is no new theme, but it is one on which a writer may well afford to brave the charge of triteness. Regarding most species, however, regrets are vain, even naturally. Large quadrupeds cannot ordinarily exist in the environment of civilization.

But the case of the prairie hen is different. Wherever there are meadows and not fields of reasonable extent it can thrive, and will thrive if given a fair living chance. Wheat is its favorite cereal, it is true, but if need be it soon learns to do without it, as, indeed, its ancestors did for untold centuries. Dens of rabbits of any kind, or prairie dogs, are likely to belong to the corn and to the bean fields, and even to thickets of underbrush. And in any and all situations it lives mainly on grasshoppers and other insects during the early part of the season, thus compensating the farmer many times over for any gleanings it may make in the grain fields later on.—Harper's Weekly.

The Convict.

An elderly gentleman, dressed in burlap apparel, has just been banishing religious tracts in the street cars, and we know at least one case of quickened conscience which was brought to public notice.

A young man entered the car, paid his nickel, and was handed a tract, headed, "Are You a Sinner?" He turned pale at once, read a few lines and suddenly called out:

"Yes, I am! I put a bad nickel in the slot! I'll begin life and be honest. Here, driven charge this half-dollar, and I'll pay my fare over again."

The change was given him and he paid, but after riding a block he left the car to see a man on the walk. The passenger thought it a wonderful opportunity, so he called out:

"half dollar."

AFRAID OF THE VERDICT.

Speaker Reed Is Not So Curious as He Was.

For a man so sure as Speaker Reed professes to be of his right, and according to (meaning the republican) programme for what we did in the 14th congress, he is remarkably ready to wait for the verdict. He seems, indeed, to be extremely anxious to avoid any verdict whatever, either of praise or blame. His policy as expressed in his acceptance of the nomination for the speakership is masterly inactivity. He wants to wait and see how the cat is going to jump. This is prudent on his part, but, revealed the politics behind it with an indiscretion which will perhaps check the fluency of Mr. Reed's confidential communications to him hereafter.

Briefly, Mr. Kellogg sees that we have entered upon an era of extraordinary prosperity. He foresees that prices will advance, business will prosper and all laboring men find abundant employment. The country will be safe.

He is not afraid that democratic legislation and administration may get some credit for this happy condition of things.

He expects Speaker Reed to prevent that and turn the prosperity to republican account and he tells how it is to be done.

Consequently, he would be extremely anxious to get it as soon as possible.

The speaker's attitude to the subject is all the more noticeable because it is most unique. The chief organ of his party, the New York Tribune, quite agrees with him as to what the verdict of history is to be. In point of fact it believes that history has already rendered its verdict, and reversed the one hastily rendered in 1869 in condemnation of McKinleyism. It regards the vote of 1894 as a demand for the reinstatement of McKinleyism, and has consistently with the Tribune, advocated the policy which Mr. Reed advocates. "The party," it says, "that烹uted the protective tariff of 1869 has been called back to remedy the evils that have resulted from its repeal and the enactment of the Wilson tariff in its stead. The voters have declared with unmistakable distinctness in favor of a return to

PROGRAMME OF REPUBLICANS

A Scheme to Get Credit for the Increasing Prosperity.

Ex-Gov. T. C. Reed, however, if anybody does what Mr. Reed's programme is for the approaching session of congress. In his interview published in the World he not only told what that programme is, but revealed the politics behind it with an indiscretion which will perhaps check the fluency of Mr. Reed's confidential communications to him hereafter.

Briefly, Mr. Kellogg sees that we have entered upon an era of extraordinary prosperity. He foresees that prices will advance, business will prosper and all laboring men find abundant employment. The country will be safe.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL

—Chief Arthur, of the Order of Locomotive Engineers, has just returned from his birthplace, Paisley, in Scotland. He said that after an absence of fifty-two years from that town he finds it practically unchanged.

—Count Lippe, a canon of the Vienna cathedral, has gone to Rome, bearing a beautiful brocaded robe presented by the Virgin of Loreto, by the Archduchess Maria Theresa, and a purse of 100,000 golden ducats, the gift of the Austrian nobility to the pope.

—In spite of Prof. Albert's philippic against teaching women medicine, Vienna's first woman doctor, Georgina Roth, has been admitted to practice, has had the oath administered to her, and has been appointed physician to the imperial school for officers' daughters.

—Old Orchard, Me., has a woman painter of a new kind. She paints houses, barns and fences and does it for a living, and makes a very good living. She gets the same wages as men in the trade, which is reasonable evidence that she does the work least every bit as well.

—The Hon. Henry E. Cooper, who has been recently qualified as minister of foreign affairs in Honolulu, although a native of Indiana, was reared and educated in Boston. He was admitted to the Massachusetts bar in 1879, and soon afterward removed to San Diego. In 1889 he settled in Honolulu.

—Walter Lawrence, of Vincennes, Ind., sixty years old, was drowned in the Wabash river a few days ago, and the fact is recalled that all his family, his mother and father, two brothers and a sister, met death in the same way, being drowned in the Ohio river at different times during the last thirty years.

—Moses W. Donnelly, the state printer of West Virginia, has applied to the state printing commission to be relieved from contract. His demands for payment have been extravagant, and there can be no appropriate action for that purpose till the next session of the legislature, which comes in 1897.

—Capt. von Hunneken, who played such a conspicuous part in the Chinese-Japanese war, is now in Berlin, Germany, on a special mission giving him full powers to make arrangements for the reorganization of the Chinese army on the Russian, French or German model. It is certain that the Chinese army needs very radical reformation.

—A St. Albans, Me., merchant is giving the people of that town a vivid illustration of the folly of patronizing peddlers. An itinerant vender struck that place the other day and did it up brown with glass pens at twenty-five cents each. The merchant let everybody who wanted one buy it of the traveler. Then he ordered some of the identical articles of a New York house and displays them marked at two cents each.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

—"I don't believe that you love me." "Yes, I do. I have given you proof enough of my love. Didn't I offer to hurl myself out of the four-story window into the street?" "What did you do?" "Why didn't I do it?" "I'll tell you why I didn't do it. The weather was bad outside. That's why. It looked as if it was going to rain."—Texas Sittings.

Why did I ever say such a thing?"—Hicks.—"Well, you see, I've invented that this house is within a stone's throw of the railway station, and now I have got to rig up some plan for throwing that stone."—Til-Bite.

GREAT REDUCTION IN TIME TO CALIFORNIA.

Once more the North-Western railroad reduced the time of its trans-continental train from 12 to 10 days, and the route to California via the popular route to be made in the marvelously short time of three days. Pauline Drawbridge Sleeps Seven Years. Chicago, Ill., did not run through to San Francisco and Los Angeles without change, and all mail on route is served by express. The Pacific Electric car service is also maintained by this line between Chicago and San Francisco and Los Angeles completed and equipped in the most modern form, being furnished at a cost of only $6,000 each from Chicago to the Pacific Coast. Through trains leave Chicago at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. daily, after which the trains of connecting lines from the East and South.

For detailed information concerning rates, routes, etc., apply to ticket agents of connecting lines or address:

THE HERALD.

STEWART COOPER, Editor

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY. Jan. 16, 1860.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce CHAS. T. BYRD, of Campion, as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk for Wolfe county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

LAONIC LIVE NEWS.

Four cities will contest for the National Democratic Convention. These are New York, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis. As the latter city may be considered out of the race, the one chosen will be of the other three. The New York influence, for a wonder, is now in dead earnest to have the convention held in New York City.

Louisville will make a master effort to secure the Democratic National Convention, and to that end is now raising a subscription. Over $20,000 has been subscribed so far, and the handsome way in which the "Falls City" entertained the Grand Army will work a wonderful influence in her favor. Here's a hoppin' she will get what she wants.

The mayoralty muddle at Lexington grows no better fast. Both branches of the council have recognized Mr. Simrall as the lawful mayor, and the police are working under his instructions, but all the same Mayor Duncan still continues to occupy the office and electorate in the cuspidor. Who will win is a question that can only be determined by the courts, and Mr. Duncan has brought suit to test the matter.

Representative Isaac Wilson, of Nelson county, died at Frankfort at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. He was a Democrat and a warm friend of Senator Blackburn, for whom he would have voted had the election taken place before his death. Speaker Blanford promised to issue a writ of election for a successor to Mr. Wilson and send it out by the mail Saturday night, but from later reports it appears that the Hunter forces compelled him to delay doing so, in the hope that they may be able to force the election of a United States senator before another representative can be elected and qualify. Who is a much mixed matter as to who will be the successor to Blackburn, and maybe he will himself be the man, though just at present it looks like the Republicans have the call.

Attorney Frank Prater, of Grayson, Carter county, was sentenced to jail for 20 days by Judge Barr, in the United States court Saturday, for assaulting and beating H. D. Gregory, the United States commissioner at Grayson. Prater was representing a client before the commissioner, and took offense at a ruling of the commissioner. After the court adjourned Prater demanded an apology, which Gregory declined to give. Prater then knocked Gregory down and bruised him up considerably. He was arrested, charged with obstructing justice. Governor Bradley, Lieutenant-Governor Worthington, Judge Holt and other prominent men petitioned Judge Barr to leave off the imprisonment penalty and fine him, but he declined to do so. Prater is a prominent lawyer, and has served in the legislature.

It is a fit entry to mention the prospective candidates for congress from the Tenth district, but we hear the matter discussed occasionally. W. M. Beckner, of Winchester, seems to be a favorite with the Democrats, so far as we are at present able to say, and his record in congress for the short time he was there is pointed to with pride by all who advocate his claims. He is known to be deeply interested in educational matters, to be an earnest and true friend to the interests of Eastern Kentucky and a very able man in the advocacy of every good work he undertakes, and all these things considered, he may when the time comes be nominated by acclamation. Judge Beckner has done more for the education of the masses than any man, perhaps, in Kentucky, and this fact alone brings him in close touch with the sturdy sons of toil who inhabit our section. Knowing that he is interested in their enlightenment and the education of their children, these men will stand by him against all comers, and unless something unforeseen should happen between now and the time for the convention he will go before that body as the favorite by odds. The people want a man whom they know to be interested in their welfare and from what we have heard they think no man in the district is so in earnest as Judge Beckner.

Cuban affairs at the capitol were given renewed interest by the session Saturday. Several resolutions, introduced in the senate, having for their purpose the recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents, are now before the committee. The discussion, although informal, indicated a unanimity in sentiment in favor of the Cubans. There is no longer doubt but that the recognition asked will be granted them, but there is a disagreement as to the proper time when it should be done. One thing is certain, that when it is done the committee will not be guided in any way by the consideration of any feeling of sympathy toward Spain, nor will it, as some seek to impress upon the committee, be turned from its course by the inevitable strained relations between this government and that at Madrid that will surely follow the recognition of the belligerent rights of the insurgents.

It is to be regretted by the friends of ex-Gov. John Young Brown that one of his last official acts in all probability cost him the United States senatorship. Brilliant, oratorical and statesman-like he would have been an honor to Kentucky. But, as the Louisville Times has truly said, the ex-governor has forever ruined his political prospects in Eastern Kentucky. Six sound money Democrats of the Tenth congressional district, who for personal reasons would have gladly compromised on him for senator, are now arrayed against him teeth and toe-nail forever, all because he tried to traduce and slander the good name of Register of Lands Swango. It is to be pitied that such a promising future was blasted in an attempt to appease his own wrath on a fellow state official.

The very great honor of christening the new battle ship Kentucky, which is to be the pride of Uncle Sam's navy, has been conferred on Miss Harriet B. Richardson, of Lexington, by Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert. Miss Richardson returned a few days ago from a visit to her sister, the wife of Colonel James K. Farney, of the Brooklyn navy yard. En route home Miss Richardson stopped in Washington a few days with friends. A bottle of American whisky will be used instead of champagne.

Through A. P. A. inference the committee appointed by the house to wait on the Frankfort ministers and invite them to invoke the blessings of Providence upon that body the priest of the Catholic church was left out. The senate, however, will make no such discrimination, as the priest will take his regular turn with the other ministers.

THE HERALD.

Hazel Green Hearsays & Happenings.

Berry Pieratt, of Ezel, was in town Sunday.

Hon. D. S. Godsey went to Campion Tuesday.

Wm. Day, of Frozen creek, is in town since Monday.

L. C. Caskey, of Grassy, who has been very ill, is now better.

W. T. Caskey is having his new house covered with steel roofing.

An infant child of Millard Brewer's, of Grassy, is dangerously ill.

Dr. Taubel tells us that Rollin Kash's baby has the whooping cough.

John M. Rose, of this place, will have a bunch of nice cattle at Mt. Sterling.

Lindsey Ware left Wednesday morning on a business trip to the far side of the county.

Dr. M. Thomas, of Ezel, was visiting relatives and friends here during the first of the week.

Frank Johnson, of Menifee county, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. B. Thompson, of this place.

Enos Brooks and his son Arberry are absent this week for a visit to friends in Powell county.

Mrs. William Blankenship has the thanks of the editor and his better for some very nice apples.

Dr. Nickell is attending Mrs. Columbus Gillaspie, near town, but we are not informed as to her illness.

Mrs. Barney Blankenship has the thanks of the editor and his better for a dish of nice apple butter.

John Allen, of White Oak, passed through here Tuesday with a nice bunch of cattle for the Mt. Sterling market.

When you go to Mt. Sterling next week do not fail to call on E. J. Mitchell for anything you need in hardware.

WANTED—To trade 4 good heavy work mules, harness and new wagon to a good farm, and will pay difference, if any. Call on H. F. P. [unclear].

Levi Kash, in a letter to the editor, of this paper from Cogswell, Ky., states that Jesus Kash, of that place, has left.

Miss Clara Pieratt, Cora Combs and Eddie Daniels, and Mrs. Stephen Pieratt, of Ezel, were visiting in Hazel Green Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Taubel, of this place, was called to see Mrs. Dr. Steve Swango, of near Maytown, a few days ago. She has fever but is doing nicely.

J. R. DeBush left last Sunday morning for Rothwell and vicinity. He will probably engage in teaching for the remainder of the winter.

John Wilson (Logston) on Wednesday weighed a hog for W. T. Swango which tipped the beam at 507 pounds, a pretty fair pig for this section.

Dave Rose left here Sunday night for some point in the west, and his wife has gone to the home of her mother, Mrs. Hollon, who lives on Holly.

Mrs. Barney Blankenship and her mother-in-law, Mrs. William Blankenship, and Miss Mary Tyler, paid our office a pleasant call Monday.

Henry Pieratt is in receipt of a fresh stock of goods and in next week's issue of this paper will formally invite you to inspect both goods and prices.

Among the good farmers of this section is our friend, E. F. Cecil, of Grassy. He has some 2,000 bushels of corn in the crib and will utilize it in feeding 40-head of young cattle.

Lila Kash is agent for the New York Ledger, and in the course of ten days will be prepared to furnish lovers of light literature regularly with that popular story paper.

For the next thirty days you can secure the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer and HAZEL GREEN HERALD for 12 months at only $1.00. Don't delay, but send your $1 to this office at once.

Mrs. Lillie McLin, who has been visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Day, and other relatives and friends here since before the holidays, left for her home at Torrent Monday.

Mort Swango last week presented John Caskey with a St. Bernard pup of fine promise. He weighs nigh on to a hundred pounds, and is only nine months old. They will drive him and the goat double harness in the spring.

OFFER EXTRAORDINARY! TWO GOOD PAPERS

For the Price of One.

By special arrangement we will for the next Thirty Days receive subscriptions to the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, 40 columns, and the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, 72 columns—both papers for 12 months for only $1.00. This combination affords 112 columns of the choicest reading, including markets, congressional affairs, general and foreign news, political pointers, war talk and all the local news—and all for less than 2 cents a week! NOW is the time to subscribe! Don't delay, as this offer is absolutely limited to 30 Days! Old subscribers can have the benefit of this offer by paying up all arrearages and one year in advance. Cash only secures this pair of plums, and the money must be sent direct to this office.

Utilizing Old Magazines.
A hint of the most commendable use to be made of old magazines is contained in the report of the Librarian of the Los Angeles public library. All the magazines that are not needed for binding and other uses are taken apart and the illustrations are cut out and used as a means of great interest to school children.

These pictures are classified and form sets for illustrating lessons in geography, history and literature. The pictures of artists and their works are valuable to another class of students; the first are of great assistance to the teachers in the public schools. The funny pictures are taken to the hospital to make the patients smile.

From the number of old coins found about the ruins of the old William Trimble residence, recently torn down, one is led to suppose that the founder of Hazel Green was a connoisseur in rare coins. Jimmie Brown recently found a silver piece, quite thin and about the size of a 20 cent piece, that is supposed to be an old Virginia levy, 12½ cents. It bears date of 17—, the two latter figures being indistinct. Jimmie has found two or three coins about the same spot, all of them being quite old.

Everywhere We Go
We find some one who has been cured by H. D. Livingston's Patent Medicine. All kinds are pronouncing this great medicine for what it has done for them and their friends. Taken in time Hodo's Sarsaparilla prevents serious illness by keeping the blood pure and all the organs in a healthy condition. It is the great blood purifier.

Hodo's Pills become the favorite cures with every one who tries them. 25 cents per box.

If the person who mailed a one dollar bill and forty cents in stamps at Campion on Wednesday, addressing the same to this office, will kindly furnish his or her name—not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith—and kindly inform us as to how the funds are to be applied we will gladly enter the proper credit. As there was no writing whatever accompanying the cash we are at a loss to know as to whom we shall give credit.

Now see that your blood is pure. Good health follows the use of Hodo's Sarsaparilla, which is the one great blood purifier.

Berry Pieratt will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better for a mess of nice pigs feet.

Look at the date after your name and pay up what you owe.

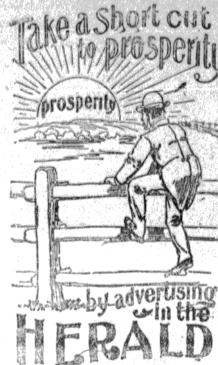

Circuit court convenes Monday.
